WOLF CREEK UTAH ANNOUNCES 4th ANNUAL MUSIC IN THE MOUNTAINS

Summer Concert Series to Run June 27th through Sept. 5th!

EDEN, Utah – (April 15, 2009) – Music in the Mountains, Wolf Creek Utah's summer concert series, features a star-filled line up ranging from country to classical! Charley Jenkins will kick off the concert series on Saturday, June 27th with gates opening at 6 p.m. and the concert beginning at 8 p.m.

A celebrated country music star, Jenkins' popularity has soared since recently opening for many top country headliners including LeAnn Rimes, Little Texas, Emerson Drive, Lonestar, and Josh Turner. In the summer of 2008, Jenkins was selected out of 45,000 contestants to be one of 12 finalists to compete on Nashville Star, which aired on NBC!

The highly-anticipated concert series will also feature the complete Utah Symphony on July 11th. World renowned, the Utah Symphony will return to Wolf Creek Utah Ski Resort for the fourth summer. Equally enjoyed by the audience and performers, this has become a special tradition in the upper Ogden Valley.

"What's great about the Wolf Creek Utah show is it is outside, and people can sit on the lawn wearing their shorts, eating and drinking," said Jeff Luke, Associate Principal Trumpet in the Utah Symphony. "The bottom line is this is a lot less snooty-feeling than what people normally associate with a symphony concert."

Following the Utah Symphony is Juice Newton on July 25th. Newton first broke onto the pop scene in 1981 with chart toppers "Angel in the Morning" followed by rollicking "Queen of Hearts". Soon after, Newton also broke high on the country charts with the much requested love song "The Sweetest Thing" and later "Break it to Me Gently".

In addition to the Symphony, Wolf Creek Utah will be hosting returning guests and regional favorites, exhilarating pianist Jon Schmidt on Aug. 7th and Nashville performer Eric Heatherly on Aug. 22nd. People worldwide are taking notice of Jon Schmidt. He spends the year playing to sold-out audiences that span the globe. His performances showcase the unique blend that is Jon Schmidt as he transitions from the dramatic and reflective into his show stopping, pyrotechnic-laced back flip.

Eric Heatherly's single "Flowers On The Wall" ended up being the #3 Top Country Single of 2000 accompanied by a #1 video on MCT and GAC. Heatherly walked away with Music Row Magazine Critic's Pick Award and #4 Top New Artist of 2000 by Billboard Magazine. Most recently, Heatherly's music has been featured on the acclaimed television show "Grey's Anatomy"

Finally, Pladdohg, an upbeat Celtic-American Folk-Rock ensemble, will provide a high energy finale to the summer concert series on Sept. 5th. Kidnapping Celtic traditional tunes and infusing them with American energy, Pladdohg has created a foot-stomping new sound perfect for a 21st century Irish-American party band. This group has a gift for spicing up all songs Celtic and for putting a Celtic spin on rock and roll, bluegrass and rockabilly. Pladdohg O'The Lough is the Salt Lake brother pack to the Pladdohg pack rockin' the San Francisco Bay Area.

Wolf Creek Utah is committed to keeping their entertainment affordable for all. Admittance to concerts is enjoyed for only $20 per carload and the Utah Symphony performance is $40 per carload.

In support of the summer concert series, Wolf Creek Utah is offering a special weekend package of $199 per night for those interested in a two-night stay (Friday/Saturday nights or Saturday/Sunday nights). This great weekend includes lodging, two rounds of golf, $50 dining gift certificate at the Club Dining Room, a tranquil horseback ride along the mountain trails for two and admission to our Concert series on Saturday night.
